

PRESS RELEASE

'TOMMIE' AWARDED CERTIFIED STATUS WITHIN THE VODAFONE APPLICATIONS PORTFOLIO

Acclaimed Online Office Admin System Extends Desktop to Handhelds

1 February 2007

TOMMIE Systems Ltd. today announced that it has been awarded Vodafone Certified application status for its TOMMIE application.

TOMMIE™ – which stands for Total Office Management Made Incredibly Easy – is a suite of online tools that come together seamlessly via a single customisable web page. Shared diaries, expenses, timesheets, job codes, holidays, contacts, tasks, memos – all can be managed by staff and analysed by managers, completely intuitively. Being browser and platform independent, it works on PCs, Macs, Windows Mobile and BlackBerry devices.

Targeted primarily at SMEs and 'loose' organisations with multiple offices and remote workers, TOMMIE represents a real and powerful alternative to the technical challenges and frustrations of syncing multiple devices and the cost of deploying (and then maintaining) a complex exchange server system. Full details can be found at www.tommie.co.uk.

In order to achieve Vodafone Certified status, TOMMIE underwent technical evaluation by Vodafone UK. As a result, the application has passed the approval process, meeting the high standards demanded by Vodafone UK's customer base and delivering value to the UK marketplace.

As a Certified application, TOMMIE Systems now has access to Vodafone UK's technical expertise and will be recommended to appropriate customers by Vodafone UK account managers. TOMMIE will be identified by the "Vodafone Certified Application" brand logo. This will allow TOMMIE Systems to benefit from Vodafone UK's position as the UK's largest mobile network operator, offering its customers in-depth support and peace of mind when deploying new mobile applications.

"Companies are charged just 10 pence per day for each user," says TOMMIE Systems managing director, Robert Simmons. "Viewed another way, this outlay is about the same as an employer buying a large cup of coffee for each member of staff once a month - the productivity boost being considerably higher. TOMMIE's great for staff and, given its extensive reporting functions, even better for managers," he says.

Nick Parbutt, head of enterprise product management, Vodafone UK said: "For many of our customers, mobile data applications, such as job scheduling or workforce management are a business imperative. Having experienced the business benefits that such applications deliver, these customers are now considering additional solutions to address day-to-day business requirements. TOMMIE Systems has proven that it can address these needs and we look forward to working with its team to enable our customers to realise the efficiencies that TOMMIE delivers."

TOMMIE Systems joins a number of other Certified application developers in the Vodafone UK applications portfolio which have developed solutions ranging from telematics and sales solutions to tools that replicate the functionality or content from the desktop environment on to the mobile device.

Those interested in further information should contact TOMMIE's Robert Simmons on 01306 743638 or visit www.vodafone.co.uk/business

-ends-

For further information please contact:

Bryony Clow

Vodafone UK Public Relations

Tel: 0845 4444466

email: press.office@vodafone.com

About Vodafone UK

Vodafone UK has 16.3 million customers and is part of the world's leading international mobile telecommunications Group, offering a wide range of voice and data communications. The company is committed to providing mobile solutions that allow both consumer and business customers to make the most of now. In addition, Vodafone connects customers across the globe with roaming agreements worldwide. It provides 3G roaming in 29 countries and offers great roaming value with Vodafone Passport. For more information, please visit www.vodafone.co.uk.